Message from the Head of School

Dear Parents,

Thank you for participating in our Book Week Events, we have had a great deal of fun immersing ourselves in books all through the week and in every nook and cranny around the school! On Friday, the children, and staff, looked fabulous, dressed in their colourful 'Book Character' costumes—everyone was a winner and we thank you wholeheartedly for your participation. Fortunately, the judging was in the hands of the children and on Thursday they took this task seriously, sharing their opinions critically with friends, deciding on their favourites and carefully filling out the voting forms.

Thank you for sending in your books for recycling at our Secondhand Book Shop, the stall made 5,000 Baht and this money has been used to purchase additional titles from Foyles Book Shop. Due to your plentiful purchases at the book shop we have been able to add a significant number of quality books to our school library—thank you.

On Monday and Tuesday we welcomed 5 teachers from the Bangkok Metropolitan Administration (BMA) who came to observe our work in school. The teachers work at schools in poor urban communities and are part of a project set up to help improve these schools.

During the weekend, a safety fence has been erected around the perimeter of what will become our building site. The entrance gate has also been repositioned for easy access during the 4 month construction period. Sadly, the rabbits will lose their present home and until we can design a new pet sanctuary, it is necessary to find new homes for all but a few. If you would like a rabbit for a pet, please let us know. Thank you.

Kind regards,

Book Week 2010

This week drew attention to our belief that children should want to read and that it is our responsibility, as teachers and parents, to do everything possible at school and at home to get children excited and fascinated by books. A quick glance at these photos will I hope, demonstrate to you just how much most of our children love books!
